ST. JOHN HEALTH FOUNDATION

DEAR FRIENDS AND ASSOCIATES,

This annual report to donors represents a collective “thank you” to those who made financial contributions to St. John Health in 2005. Whether you gave as an individual, family, business owner or through a corporate sponsorship, your gift has made a difference. St. John Health and its extensive health care network of nine hospitals have achieved far more than we could have accomplished alone.

You’ve helped us grow. A new hospital at Providence Park in Novi will be an asset to the community when it opens in 2008. Major expansion and renovation at St. John Hospital and Medical Center will transform the campus by 2009 and greatly enhance the delivery and setting of health care services. Fundraising represents a significant part of this impressive effort.

Health care systems across the nation must continue to do more with less. St. John Health, part of Ascension Health, is no different. With a continual drop in government funding, tighter reimbursement from insurers, and employees and retirees being asked to cover more of their health care costs, the financial base is shifting. Philanthropy previously provided the margin of excellence. Now, it has become an essential source of funding in addition to that margin of excellence.

When you contribute to St. John Health, you’ll see a high rate of return in the communities we serve – whether it’s for expansion, new technology or improved ways to deliver patient care. This annual report shows what can be achieved when we work together.

Sincerely,

R. Glen Smiley, FAHP
President, St. John Health Foundation

St. John Conner Creek Village re-energizes community

An emerging community that offers a range of health care and support services as well as affordable senior apartments is taking shape at Conner Creek Village. The developing site is located on the campus of the former St. John NorthEast Community Hospital at East Outer Drive and Van Dyke. The center has retained its 24-hour emergency room while other portions of the building are being converted for various health care services. These include the development of a primary care ambulatory health facility and a federally qualified health center (FQHC), which opened in spring 2006.

The FQHC, one of only 10 in Detroit, is funded in part through more than $1 million in grants from various agencies. St. John Health Foundation was instrumental in obtaining these grants.

The campus also houses new senior apartments for independent living. Phase One, with 48 units, opened in the first quarter of 2006; the second phase will open in 2007. The apartments are being developed by Detroit Community Initiative (DCI), one of several organizations partnering with St. John Health to make the area a safe and attractive setting for a unique combination of community-based services.

In addition to health care services, the former hospital building will offer a range of support and educational services, including job training, a community center and day care.

Conner Creek Village is a commitment by St. John Health to uplift, heal and empower the community in northeast Detroit. Together with key partners, St. John Health envisions a campus that serves as a national model for the optimal health and well-being for residents of all ages.

A Night to Care supports new technology for breast cancer

St. John Detroit Riverview Hospital's (SJDRH) 15th annual A Night to Care—"Made in Motown," held Oct. 29, 2005, at the Detroit Marriott Renaissance Center, raised $137,166 to support Women's Health Services. Proceeds from the black-tie event went toward the purchase of a state-of-the-art, high-resolution ultrasound machine with multi-dimensional technology to assist in the early detection of breast cancer.

Breast cancer is the most common cancer that affects women and the second leading cause of cancer death among women. Early detection is the gold standard for breast cancer care, impacting treatment and saving thousands of lives each year.

"Through the funds raised from A Night to Care, we are able to provide our patients with the best medical equipment possible," said Cheryl Gibson-Fountain, MD, SJDRH Chief of Staff. "This is our opportunity to give back to a community that gives so much and to recognize associates who have generously given to the hospital and community."

Peggy Richardson, MD, and Rochelle Wright, Lead Occupational Therapist, were honored at the event for their dedication and service to SJDRH patients and the community.

Community Health Centers provide a safety net for patients in need

Where do you turn when you don't have health insurance or aren't adequately covered for health care? The answer can be found at St. John Health Community Health Centers. These centers provide care for all area residents, regardless of their ability to pay. Services include preventive and primary health care, some dental care for adults and children, prenatal care, and management of chronic diseases such as asthma, diabetes and heart disease.

Getting sick without having health insurance is not a good feeling. Just ask Roger, a 57-year-old security guard, who had stomach pain, headaches and vision problems. Lucky for him and others without health insurance, the Thea Bowman Community Health Center in Detroit was there for him. He was diagnosed with gastrointestinal bleeding and had further tests at Providence Hospital. When an MRI scan revealed a pituitary tumor, he underwent surgery.

Through St. John Health's "Physicians Who Care" program, Roger received free care and services from Drs. David Piper, Daniel Pieper, Peter McCann and Naseer Ahmad. These leading specialists are among more than 400 physicians who volunteer their services for uninsured patients in need, either at the clinic, at Providence Hospital or at other St. John Health locations.

Getting free diagnosis and treatment allowed Roger to return to work and resume a good quality of life, free from pain and two illnesses that would have become worse. He's glad that St. John Health Community Health Centers and physicians cared about him and cared for him. It's part of our mission at St. John Health.

St. John Hospice staff goes the extra mile to provide comfort

In December, an 18-year-old patient with end-stage lymphoma was laying in his bed at St. John Hospital waiting to go home for the holidays. There was a delay in getting a much-needed platelet transfusion. When the patient heard his discharge might be postponed until the next day, he cried. That's when two Hospice caregivers stepped in to help make sure the patient got home as quickly as possible. One stayed with him until the procedure was completed and a pump was hooked up, while the other awaited his arrival in Port Huron to provide assistance when he got there.

The dedication and compassion of the Hospice staff helped fulfill this young man's wish: to be home for his last Christmas. The entire Hospice staff truly makes a difference in the last days and hours of a patient's life.

St. John Hospice provides comfort and peace to terminally ill patients and their families during the difficult life-ending journey by providing comprehensive, compassionate care focusing on pain management and symptom control. To learn more about St. John Hospice, please contact Eva Sylvester at 586-723-9582.

Wolfe Fund seeks additional AEDs to prevent more heart attack deaths

When a heart attack occurs, time is critical. Having an automatic external defibrillator (AED) available to use during the first few minutes of a heart attack can mean the difference between life and death. Slightly larger than a laptop computer, the defibrillator unit can be operated without advance training.

St. John Oakland Hospital has purchased six AEDs for physician offices with funds donated to the Robert R. Wolfe, DO, Memorial Fund. The Wolfe Fund was created in memory of Dr. Wolfe, who died from sudden cardiac arrest at his medical office three years ago. If the long-term Medical Director of St. John Oakland Hospital had an AED in his office at that time, he might still be alive today.

Efforts to fund 10 AEDs have been led by Gary Berg, DO; Bob Deputat, President of St. John Oakland Hospital; and Mary Jo Wolfe, Dr. Wolfe's widow. St. John Health Foundation is looking for donors to fund the final four AEDs, at an approximate cost of $2,500 each. Interested donors may call the St. John Health Foundation at 586-582-7500. All contributions are tax-deductible.

Second grader turns compassion into contributions for St. John River District

No one knows the full range of feelings experienced by a child when a grandparent dies. A special cross-generational bond breaks and it is often a child's first encounter with losing a loved one. For 7-year-old Louie Wilson, the death of his grandmother brought sadness but also spurred action.

His grandmother had been a patient at St. John River District Hospital (SJRDH) prior to her passing. Louie had visited his grandmother in the hospital and saw that the staff took good care of her. When she died, he felt motivated to do something on her behalf. He got the idea to have a fundraiser on the school bus that travels to East China Elementary School, where he attended second grade. His parents supported him in his extraordinary endeavor.

When the collections were counted, Louie had raised $21.96. He and his family then brought those funds to SJRDH, where they were put to good use. As Mother Theresa noted during her lifetime of doing good for others: It's not the quantity of the people you help, it's the love you show in the action.

At a young age, Louie already understands the concept of helping others and taking the needed steps to make a difference. In some ways, Louie is not only a student, he's also a teacher.

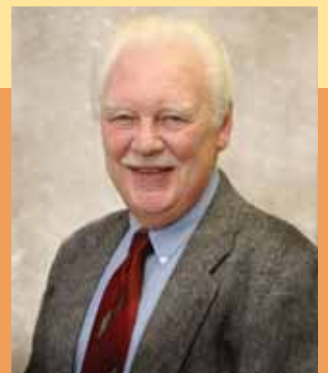

Frank Poma, President, SJRDH, accepts a donation from Louie Wilson and thanks him with an appreciation gift and award.

Physician commits to education fund

Podiatry residents at St. John North Shores Hospital (SJNSH) will have greater educational opportunities through the establishment of the Dr. Charles E. Pankratz Podiatric Surgical Scholarship Fund.

Dr. Pankratz and his wife Carol Ann established the fund in 2005 with an initial gift of $5,000 and will add $5,000 annually during Dr. Pankratz's lifetime with a planned bequest of $50,000 upon his death. Funds will provide scholarship awards to three podiatric residents a year to attend the American College of Foot and Ankle Surgeons annual conference.

Dr. Pankratz, former Chief of the Podiatric Medicine department at SJNSH, was a member of the medical/surgical staff for 30 years.

Dr. Charles E. Pankratz

Others are invited to contribute to this fund with the goal of making it a perpetual endowment. For more information, please call Joe McKay at 586-582-7506.

Emergency Department expands to meet growing demand

Expanding the Emergency Department at St. John Macomb Hospital (SJMH) has already made a difference for patients in terms of less waiting time for diagnosis and treatment despite higher patient volumes. The larger, modern facility features upgraded furnishings and equipment, and a more efficient layout.

Patient satisfaction jumped 10 points over a six-month period as a result of these enhancements and a new streamlined process that enables patients to be triaged, registered and evaluated by a nurse and physician simultaneously.

The 10,000 square-foot addition added 60 percent more space. This translates into greater privacy for patients with 47 treatment cubicles (walled on three sides, curtained on one), up from 22 cubicles that were enclosed on most sides by curtains alone. Other features include a separate ambulance entrance, a two-bed trauma room, a decontamination room, and a spacious waiting area with a children's play area.

The $6 million expansion project was made possible with St. John Health funding of $4 million and a capital campaign that raised nearly $2 million from area businesses, individuals, physicians, hospital associates and volunteers.

SJMH has one of the fastest growing Emergency Departments in southeast Michigan, with a 10.5 percent growth increase in the first nine months of 2005.

The waiting room (above) and treatment bay (below) of the renovated Emergency Department provide greater efficiencies and comfort for patients.

Patient donates artwork in honor of caregivers

An artist who became a patient at St. John Macomb Hospital expressed her gratitude to two compassionate caregivers who made her stay extra pleasant in one of the best ways she knew how: giving the gift of art.

Artist Joy Van Liening was so impressed with the care and kindness she received from Marty VanDerHeyden and Mike Donaldson, Patient Care Technicians (PCTs), that she presented each of them with original artwork that she painted. “The Tree of Life” and “The Bridge” are on display in their units, serving as a daily reminder that patients value the service provided by PCTs and other hospital staff.

Mike Donaldson admires Joy's painting of "The Bridge."

ovi hospital takes shape as “hospital of tomorrow”

The new hospital at Providence Park in Novi will have its own unique identity. The six-story building will feature natural-looking materials, including expanses of brick, glass and stone, with the exterior blending well with the tranquil setting of rolling land, groves of trees and wetlands. When completed in 2008, this “hospital of tomorrow” will contain the latest medical technology in an environment that blends comfort and care with scenic views to aid in the healing process.

The location will also feature medical offices and other health-related businesses. As a community anchor, the hospital is expected to draw patients from four counties and stimulate economic growth with the addition of restaurants, shops and office space.

Groundbreaking is a “hands-on” event

A groundbreaking celebration on Oct. 17, 2005, drew 300 associates, friends and supporters. Robert Casalou, President of the new hospital, expressed the dream that many had worked long and hard for — building a community hospital that embodies high-quality care on the west side of Oakland County.

The event culminated in an invitation to attendees to leave their “mark” on the new hospital, by imprinting their hands in clay tiles that were later glazed and framed to symbolize the “healing hands” of the St. John Health logo and the hands of the many people working together to build the hospital.

When the hospital opens, it will feature:

- 200 beds with space for 68 additional beds
- Full-service Emergency Department, equipped to become a trauma center
- State-of-the-art Imaging Services
- 470,000 square feet of space
- Inpatient and Outpatient Pediatric Services
- Neurosciences Center of Excellence featuring the Craniofacial Institute for Reconstructive Surgery, the Michigan Ear Institute, Neurosurgery and Neurology
- Cardiovascular Center of Excellence
- Oncology Center of Excellence
- Comprehensive Women's Services

Compassionate care prompts patient to give generously in honor of staff

Lois C. Hill and Ramona T. Kamate are Patient Care Technicians (PCTs) who love their jobs and taking care of their patients on 3 South, the Women's Health Unit at Providence Hospital. Their special care impressed one patient (who wishes to remain anonymous) so much that she donated a $5,000 gift to the hospital in the PCTs' names.

"The patient was very impressed with their care, concern and patience and chose to acknowledge this in a very generous way," said Karen Ames, Nurse Manager. "When I heard about the $5,000 donation, I was extremely proud of our associates. All of our nurses and PCTs work very hard to strive for five-star customer service." Lois has been at Providence for 23 years and receives numerous compliments about the care she provides. "She is an excellent role model, and many patients say she has the patience of a saint," Karen said. "Ramona takes her customer service seriously. She is very polite when dealing with her patients and their family members. Both are hard workers."

The main role of a PCT is to assist patients with activities of daily living — washing, ambulating, making beds, and taking blood pressures. Lois and Ramona come to work with a positive attitude and one purpose in mind — to give the best care they can and to treat all patients with respect, care and personal attention. Recognition is icing on the cake.

"My job comes from my heart; caring for people is irreplaceable," Lois said. "If I can bring a smile to a patient's face, it makes a difference. The hands-on caring for people and making them feel better are what I like. When they let me know I've made a difference in their day, in their lives, it keeps me motivated." Ramona wants to do whatever it takes to make patients comfortable while they're in the hospital. "My mother taught me to treat people like you want to be treated," she said. She takes that philosophy to heart. "I love my job and thank God for it every day. It gives me a chance to take care of people, something I've always wanted to do. When I was a child, my grandmother was sick and didn't have good care; ever since then, I've wanted to help comfort people."

Both associates were surprised but delighted by the patient's gift, which they were able to direct toward their favorite area of the hospital. Both agreed to send a portion of the donation to Providence's Believe in Miracles Fund, which assists oncology patients who cannot afford medication, with the balance split between PCT education and the Oncology Education Fund.

Lois Hill and Ramona Kamate.

Providence Heart Institute Phase II completed in 2005

The Providence Heart Institute completed a three-year, $17 million expansion program in 2005 to meet the increasing cardiac needs of Providence patients and the community. Fundraiser proceeds and philanthropic contributions for the project totaled $2,275,044.

Phase II of the expansion added the following improvements:

- eight additional cardiovascular observation beds (for a total of 19)
- two additional stress echo labs
- an additional nuclear medicine camera
- cardiology specialty clinics for pulmonary hypertension, lipid management, heart failure and weight management
- revamped registration area
- addition of private family consultation rooms

Patients benefit from technologically advanced care that extends from registration through recovery. Phase II improvements have led to greater patient satisfaction, more convenience and the ability to support a high level of cardiac care.

The aesthetics were also enhanced with the addition of a beautiful wall of water, which provides a soothing backdrop for patients and families in the waiting room. The wall of water spans 12 feet high and 31 feet wide and streams down blocks of colored glass. The focal point of the room blends with the wood, stone and special lighting to create a calm, healing environment.

The wall of water was funded from a portion of the generous $1 million pledge made by the Our Lady of Providence League (OLPL) volunteer auxiliary to outfit the waiting room with a courtyard and garden area. OLPL funds are raised annually from gift shop revenue and special fundraisers.

Heart attack patient gives from the heart

The special bond that Esther Kolovsky has with her physician, Shukri David, MD, Chief of Cardiology, goes beyond the excellent care she received following her heart attack more than 15 years ago. It's a bond of appreciation and mutual respect. To pay tribute to this bond, Esther donated $50,000 to Providence Hospital in 2005.

Her generous gift went toward Phase II of the Providence Heart Institute and has funded a conference room for cardiac care education and meetings. Upon completion of the room, Esther was honored with a plaque and reception.

The state-of-the-art Heart Institute offers comprehensive care for heart and vascular disease in one convenient location within Providence Hospital. Since the completion of Phase I in 2003 and the opening of Phase II in 2005, more than 60,000 cardiac procedures have been performed at the Heart Institute.

Esther is grateful for the care of Dr. David.

Excitement prevailed

at the ribbon-cutting ceremony on Sept. 19, 2005, when donors and special guests got a firsthand look at the brick courtyard of the Providence Heart Institute. Contributions enabled donors to have their names or messages inscribed on a brick paver, setting in "stone" their support of the Heart Institute. The courtyard and its tranquil setting can be seen from the Heart Institute's waiting room. Donations are still being accepted for the brick inscriptions. For details, please call the Providence Health Foundation, 248-849-5744.

Providence radiologists recognized for spirit of philanthropy

The Providence Health Foundation and Providence Hospital Administration hosted a luncheon to thank and recognize the physicians of Southfield Radiology Associates, PC. The radiologists have contributed more than $700,000 to Providence Hospital for a variety of campaigns and projects over the past several years.

The luncheon focused on Southfield Radiology Associates' most recent gift, a contribution of $340,000 to support the Excite MRI Breast Imaging upgrade. The upgrade enables Providence to provide patients with the latest technology in breast imaging for diagnosis and treatment.

Jeffrey Zaks, MD, Vice President, Medical Affairs, was among the hospital administrators who expressed his gratitude to the physician group and remarked about the integrity of the radiologists and their understanding of philanthropy and how it benefits the hospital and patients.

"They have embraced a culture of philanthropy from the start of their relationship with Providence," said Dr. Zaks. "They are special physicians who live the values and mission of this hospital."

Tiles make "Lasting Impressions" on patients and visitors

Patients and visitors walking through the tunnel that connects the Assarian Cancer Center with the main medical complex at Providence Park are often moved by the experience as they gaze at the walls covered in hand-decorated tiles.

Members of the Novi community – individuals, families, friends, schools, scout troops, organizations, businesses and hospital departments – crafted tiles as part of a community art project called "Lasting Impressions." Nearly 1,000 ceramic tiles cover 288 linear feet. In shades of green and blue, the tiles represent images of hope, inspiration and happiness – an impressive reflection of the human spirit.

The tile project was facilitated by the Providence Center for the Healing Arts and supported by a grant from the Michigan Association of Community Arts Agencies. "The goal was to transform the tunnel and, therefore, the health care experience by adding beauty, hope and joy to the facility," said Elena Weissman, Manager, Providence Center for the Healing Arts.

Hospital expansion paves way for future of health care delivery

St. John Hospital and Medical Center (SJH&MC) launched a multi-million dollar expansion and renovation project in 2005 at its Mack and Moross campus to keep pace with advances in health care delivery and strengthen its position as a leading destination hospital.

"This $156 million investment in our Detroit campus will result in a physical transformation that positions us among the best facilities in the nation," said Mark R. Taylor, President, SJH&MC.

Funding will come from St. John Hospital's retained earnings, a bond offering through its parent company Ascension Health, and $25 million in philanthropic contributions. The fundraising effort was launched with a $5.1 million gift from the William Shelden family and Foundation. Other interested contributors can contact Ralph Alee at 313-343-7482 for more information about donations and naming opportunities.

Cynthia and Jeffrey Littmann, Tomasine Marx and Dr. Ali Rabbani.

A groundbreaking event on Oct. 18 celebrated the beginning of the expansion project, which includes:

- Pavilion with 144 private patient rooms
- Heart and Circulatory Center
- Centralized Diagnostic Imaging Services (for inpatient and outpatient care)
- A main hospital entrance that faces north with a soaring atrium lobby
- The Emergency Department will be renovated and nearly double in size, featuring private treatment modules and a separate ambulance entrance
- More convenient patient parking
- The Pavilion is slated to open in 2008 and the Emergency Department will be completed in 2009

"The transformation

we celebrate today will bring dramatic changes to the way St. John Hospital looks. But what will stay the same is the commitment of our health ministry and the sacred trust our patients have in us to care for and respect them in their time of greatest need."

Mark R. Taylor, SJH&MC President

St. John Hospital

Robotic system increases cardiac, urology surgery options

Patients undergoing surgery for certain cardiac procedures or prostate cancer at St. John Hospital and Medical Center (SJH&MC) now have the advantage of a new robotic system that results in fewer complications and a quicker recovery than standard surgery. The Cornerstone Fund contributed $1 million to acquire a da Vinci Surgical System® for the St. John Minimally Invasive Surgery Center.

“Acquiring this system makes St. John Hospital a destination hospital for highly skilled surgeons who wish to use the technologically advanced surgical center,” said Larry Lloyd, MD, Chief of Surgery.

In March 2005, Steven Harrington, MD, Chief of Cardiovascular Surgery at SJH&MC, performed the first myocardial revascularization (re-establishment of blood flow through a vessel) with robotic assist on a 62-year-old patient using the da Vinci Surgical System. Soon after, Urologist Edward Schervish, MD, performed the hospital’s first laparoscopic prostatectomy with robotic assist on a 65-year-old patient.

In the first year of operation, 84 procedures were performed using advanced robotic technology, enabling patients to recover quicker and often with less pain than with traditional surgery.

The computer-enhanced robotic unit allows surgeons to perform minimally invasive surgery with greater precision. The surgeon operates from a console equipped with master controls that guide surgical instruments and views a visually enhanced, 3-D image of the surgical site on a screen. The controls translate the surgeon’s wrist, hand and finger movements to the robot’s micro-surgical instruments. This allows the surgeon to have greater control to suction, cauterize, stitch and remove tissue. Another key advantage of robotic surgery is that it requires only small ports to insert the instruments rather than larger incisions required by standard surgery.

St. John surgeons can use the da Vinci robot system to perform a variety of other cardiac and urology procedures, including single- and multi-vessel beating heart bypass, mitral valve repair and radical prostatectomy. In the future, surgeons will perform more specialty procedures such as removal of donor kidneys and bowel surgery.

The surgical team has a better view of the operating field with the new da Vinci Surgical System.

Dr. Steven Harrington at the controls of the da Vinci Surgical System.

Suites of St. John feature hotel-style amenities

A deluxe private room graced with elegant furnishings, luxurious linens, room service and other amenities enhances the hospital experience for patients willing to pay an upgrade charge. Patients who check into the Suites of St. John, completed in 2005 with generous contributions from private donors, savor the setting and services that make them feel like a guest at a fine hotel. While the quality of care remains at the same high level throughout the hospital, these extras make the hospital stay exceptionally pleasant.

A total of nine rooms, two of which can be converted to suites with a private sitting room, are located in the medical/surgical unit and cancer care unit, both on the sixth floor; and in the cardiac unit on the second and fourth floors. The cost to upgrade is $250/day for a single private room and $350/day for a single private room with an adjoining sitting room.

Guests to the Suites can visit patients in their well-appointed rooms or in a private lounge area with a large flat screen TV. The lounge décor features warm cherry wood floors, sofas and chairs, a kitchenette and plants, all combined to promote a feeling of tranquility. The Suites fulfill the desire of patients who want enhanced accommodations and are part of a national trend among hospitals to provide such amenities at an additional cost.

Jere McBride of Grosse Pointe Shores experienced the amenities and luxury firsthand during her hospital stay. "It was very pleasant and quiet," she said. "The doctors and nurses were excellent, and so was the food!"

Jere and her husband Frank are long-time supporters of St. John Hospital and Medical Center. They are also members of the Connors Society, which offers special benefits, including a visit by a Donor Relations staff member to ensure the donor's hospital stay meets expectations.

The cost of the Suites addition is $2.4 million and fundraising efforts continue for an additional $267,000 with recognition opportunities still available. Call Nina Holden at 313-343-4065 for information on giving opportunities.

Fontbonne mingles fun with fundraising

The Fontbonne Auxiliary is a volunteer organization for St. John Hospital and Medical Center (SJH&MC). Established in 1947, it raises money through events and proceeds from Le Fontbonne Gift Shoppe, the hospital's gift shop. Over the years, the Fontbonne has donated millions of dollars to SJH&MC to purchase equipment and technology and fund programs to meet the medical needs of the community and assist the hospital in becoming one of the region's leading health care providers.

White Christmas Ball

The Fontbonne Auxiliary raised more than $370,000 at the White Christmas Ball held Dec. 9, 2005, at the Ritz-Carlton, Dearborn. Chaired by Patricia Minnick and Mary Berg, the event honored Sister Verenice McQuade, Director of

Sr. Verenice McQuade

Community and Patient Services. Proceeds will benefit the hospital's expansion and renovation project, with a special section of the new Pavilion dedicated in honor of Sr. Verenice. The McQuade Corridor will offer larger family-centered patient rooms with private bathrooms and new technology that make the rooms more readily adaptable to patient medical needs.

Fashion Show raises funds for defibrillators

The Fontbonne Auxiliary's 40th Annual Fashion Show "The Beat Goes On" was held April 27, 2005, at Penna's of Sterling and raised $22,000 to replace biphasic transport defibrillators/monitors. This equipment is crucial to the safety of patients during transport to and from the Cardiac Catheterization Lab, providing lifesaving monitoring with pacemaker capabilities and defibrillation. The monitors are also used during cardiac procedures and for patients awaiting an inpatient bed or prior to surgery.

Gifts from St. John Guild enhance patient care

The St. John Guild is a volunteer organization that has raised more than $15 million since its establishment in 1948 to assist with the funding of equipment, technology and services that enhance patient care at St. John Hospital and Medical Center (SJH&MC).

Annual Guild Dinner raises $130,000 for expansion project

The 45th Annual Guild Dinner for SJH&MC raised more than $130,000 for the hospital's expansion and renovation project. The event on June 8, 2005, featured Sinbad, one of America's top comedians, who entertained an appreciative audience of 1,100 Guild members and guests. The Guild's pledge of $1.25 million toward the hospital's expansion project is making headway with $250,000 already given to SJH&MC from the dinner proceeds and other Guild projects.

Guild funds space renovation for PET/CT scanner

A generous gift from the St. John Guild has enabled SJH&MC to renovate space for a new mobile PET/CT scanner. St. John Health is one of the first health systems in the state to offer a mobile PET/CT scanner, which rotates between SJH&MC, St. John Macomb Hospital and St. John Providence Park Hospital in Novi.

This advanced diagnostic technology combines images from the highly sensitive PET scan, which detects changes in cell activity, with detailed pictures of internal anatomy from the CT scan. The combined image shows precisely where abnormalities exist. This helps physicians diagnose cancer and heart disease earlier and allows for more precise treatment.

Donor Recognition

2005 was a year of significant achievement, thanks to your generosity. Much was accomplished through gifts made to St. John Health, its hospitals, affiliates and programs, and much more will be achieved through gifts pledged or contributed to our capital campaigns. We wish to proclaim our thanks to the thousands of individuals, families and businesses listed here as well as anonymous donors whose contributions help St. John Health carry out its mission. Your efforts help us reach a higher level of excellence in the health care we provide.
